

Sunday

Words & Music by
Brad Rempel &
Mike R. Schuster

It's been a long hard week, Lord You know
Sometimes we get discouraged on this road
And all too often we try to go it alone
Where two or three are gathering in Your Name
You promised you'd be with us. We believe
There's still something special about getting together on Sunday

It's Sunday lift your voice and sing
To worship our Father and our King
Come on, let's celebrate
The one day we gather in this place
Your children, nothing can replace
Standing here together as sisters and brothers on Sunday

It always builds us up when we start our week
To join our hearts in praise, to pray and seek
Your will to guide us as we feed on Your Word
We want to live our lives in worship everyday
Walking close beside You, come what may
But Lord we're thankful when we get to get together on Sunday

It's Sunday lift your voice and sing
To worship our Father and our King
Come on, let's celebrate
The one day we gather in this place
Your children, nothing can replace
Standing here together as sisters and brothers on Sunday

I've been waiting all week long
I've been waiting all week long

It's Sunday lift your voice and sing
To worship our Father and our King
Come on, let's celebrate
The one day we gather in this place
Your children, nothing can replace
Standing here together as sisters and brothers on Sunday
Standing here together as sisters and brothers on Sunday
Standing here together as sisters and brothers on Sunday